FLYING IN THE DARK: A BLIND WOMAN'S STORY
with Kim Kilpatrick

So, she was born blind! So – for those of us who are sighted – Kim would seem to be hemmed in by dark. That's not how she sees it. For her, the darkness is no barrier. It's the refusal of others to acknowledge her competence that weights her down. Laughter, language, relish for living have freed her. All that and her trusty guide dogs. A story of gentle adventure to send you chuckling into the night.

Kim Kilpatrick gratefully acknowledges the support of the Canada Council for the Arts  Canada Council for the Arts  Conseil des Arts du Canada

200 YEARS AND COUNTING
with Dale Jarvis and Delf Maria Hohmann

It's 200 years exactly since the Brothers Grimm published their first folktale collection. Take one master storyteller and one beloved folk musician weaving the events of the Brothers' lives around their stories. You have an evening of celebration of this fierce, funny, ancient and oh so contemporary gift to humankind.

DRAGON'S GOLD: A SWORD RE-FORGED, A RING ACCURSED
with
Jan Andrews, Jennifer Cayley, Katherine Grier

When the old Norse gods held sway, a son was slain and payment exacted in gold but the gold bore a curse, blighting the lives of all it touched. Wagner shaped the story anew. Tolkien made it the heart of a hobbit's quest. Now, three of Canada's finest tellers capture the epic's spell once more. And, yes, there is a dragon; there is a sword that must be re-made.
